Dear Sir:

I have just finished reading your book "The Lone Star" and found it very interesting. I am a retired member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and have been interested in the assassination of President Kennedy and the wounding of Governor John Connally for many years.

After the wounding of Governor Connally his clothes were dry cleaned and eventually turned over to the authorities investigating the case. The stetson hat he was holding on that day was never turned over or examined by the authorities. Do you know if there was a bullet hole in the stetson or holes made by fragments of a bullet? Could you also tell me if the stetson is still in existence.

Answers to these questions would be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Kenneth D. Curry
